DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: Species I. Figures 29-32;

Species II. Figures 33-35.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, none of the claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

During a telephone conversation with Valentin Cottrill on July 19, 2005 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Species II. (figures 33-35), claims 11-14. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 1-10 have been withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Moss et al. (U.S. Patent No. 3,395,476).

Moss et al. shows in figures 1-4 a flame simulating assembly comprising a simulated fuel bed (3), a light source (4), a screen (9) positioned behind the simulated fuel bed for transmitting and diffusing light, the screen including a plurality of curved portions (13), each of the curved portions adapted to attenuate the image of flames upon transmission through the screen to give at least a portion of the flames a three-dimensional appearance, and a flicker element (5) for causing light from the light source to fluctuate to form the image of flames.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Moss et al. (U.S. Patent No. 3,395,476).

Moss et al. discloses the applicant's basic inventive concept except for placing the curved portions randomly on the screen. The applicant discloses in the specification on page 34, paragraph 00120, that the curved portions do not have to be randomly placed on the screen. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify Moss et al. to randomly place the curved portions on the screen since the applicant fails to provide any advantage to placing the curved portions randomly on the screen and the arrangement of the curved portions on the screen taught by Moss et al. would work equally well. In regard to claim 13, the curved portions on opposite ends of the screen are spaced apart.

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Moss et al. (U.S. Patent No. 3,395,476) in view of Martin et al. (U. S. Patent No. 6,393,207).

Moss et al. discloses the applicant's basic inventive concept except for placing a flame effect element between the flicker element and the screen. Martin et al. shows in figure 3 the idea of placing a flame effect element (86) between the flicker element (84) and the screen (114). In view of the teachings of Martin et al. it would have been obvious to one in the art to modify Moss et al. by placing a flame effect element between the flicker element and the screen since this would create a more realistic and aesthetically pleasing flame effect.
